

Child Dedication (Self) Social Narrative

We are going to have a special day at church where my family will promise to teach me about Jesus. This is called a dedication.

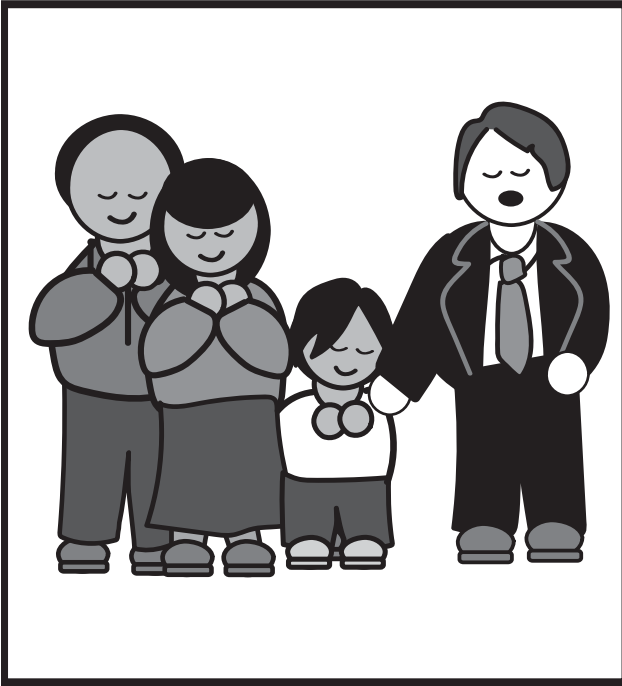

I may sit with my family until it's time for the dedication to start. If I need to move my body, I can hold a fidget or swing my feet.

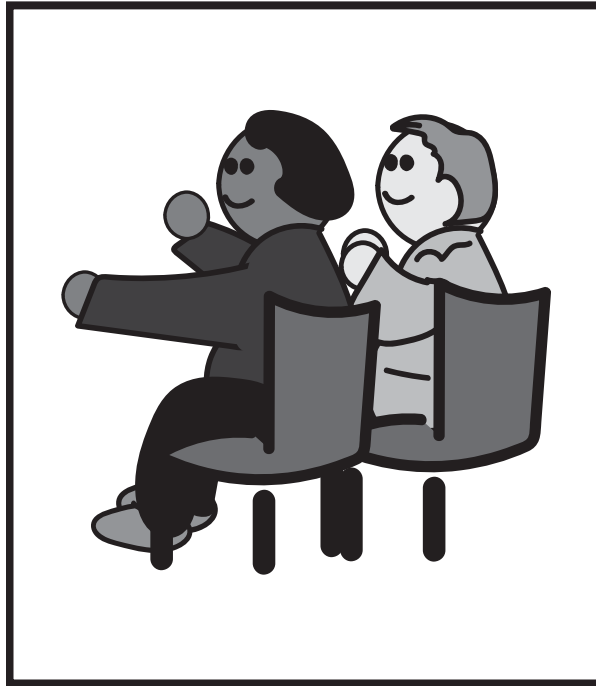

Families may go on the stage or they may stand at their seats during the dedication.

Then the pastor will pray over the families.

Afterwards, people in my church may clap or cheer.

When the dedication is over, I will leave with my family.
